

The same entrainment data against two references: the apparent effect is the null moving

A. Scored against the analytic persistence null
(what we first did — the null itself moves)

B. Scored against an unsteered control
(the honest reference — no entrainment)

